SCHOOL PROFILE

Just 1 hour from Phoenix, Arizona, The Orme School is a unique, college-prep school set on 300 acres in rural Arizona. Their mission is to develop sound character, scholastic growth, and intellectual curiosity. With an A+ rating on Niche.com, their academics are more than impressive with 100% of their students being accepted into university.

FACILITIES

The Orme School's 300-acre campus sits on an additional 26,000 acres of ranch land. It features on-campus housing, athletic facilities, equestrian arenas, and a 100-mile bike lane. Students have access to a 24-hour health center, a unique on-campus restaurant, and educational resources such as a planetarium and green house.

SPORTS AND ARTS

In addition to traditional sports such as football, softball, and tennis, The Orme School's location allows for an outstanding horsemanship program. The Orme School has won the state championship in swimming, cross country, track and field, tennis, and chess. The school's diverse arts program offers classic courses such as band and yearbook as well as more unique options, like their outdoor leadership class. Students can also take part in the annual Fine Arts Festival.

AWARDS AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS

The Orme School has a well-deserved A+ rating and rated #3 Best Boarding High School in Arizona on Niche.com. It is a registered brand with the State of Arizona's Department of Agriculture.

DORMITORIES AND STUDENT LIFE

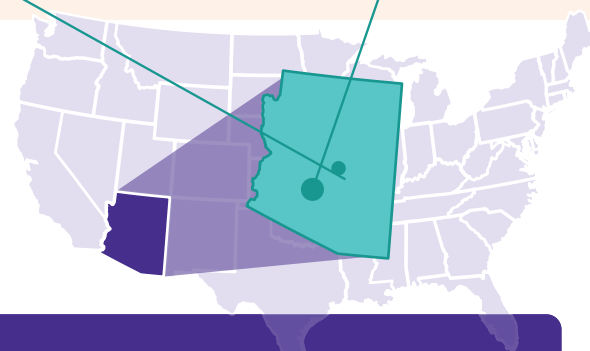

Dorm life offers a comfortable respite, time for hanging out with friends, catching up on homework, listening to music, and learning each day how to take responsibility into one's own hands. Students learn this responsibility through community involvement, leadership, the generous support and wisdom of faculty and staff, cultural diversity, accountability, and pitching in to help others.
