DISTRICT PROFILE

Provo City School District is located in the Western US state of Utah. The district offers international high school students the chance to enroll in one of two coeducational four-year high schools.

FACILITIES

The school campuses include science labs, media centers, sports fields, and more. One of the high schools is located directly across the street from Brigham Young University.

SPORTS AND ARTS

Both schools offer championship sports programs with students competing in football, track and field, and more.

The schools' extensive arts programs give students the opportunity to develop unique skills such as ballroom dancing, a program in which students in the district have won 9 state titles.

The district's schools have received awards for America's Best High Schools, 11 of its students were National Merit Semifinalists, and the students took first place in the Skills USA Competition in Mathematics. One was also named "America's Most Challenging School" by the Washington Post.
